DAIRY TRUCK HORN SCARES OFF GUNMEN

ELMVALE, Ont., Sept. 11.—(CP)—Three hooded gunmen escaped empty-handed after a dairy truck horn scared them away from the deposit boxes they rifled early today in the Bank of Toronto in this village 12 miles north of Barrie.

Bank Manager John Schaeffer said the gunmen slugged him over the head with a gun barrel and tied him, his wife and his two sons with ripped bedclothes. He was forced downstairs where the bandits, using the bank's screw driver, started to pry open deposit boxes.

Police said the men didn't get any cash and if they escaped with bonds, most of them were registered.

While they were opening 13 deposit boxes a dairy truck horn sounded in the street, scaring them away.

TLC Suspends Strong Union

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—(CP)—The executive of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada today suspended the TLC from the powerful Brotherhood of Railway and Shipbuilding Clerks whose Canadian chapter split with the congress over union of Communism.

The big international union was suspended for failing to repudiate the recent action of Canadian vice-president Frank Hall in directing its union merger against the Canadian Seamen's Union, a congress affiliate alleged to be dominated by Reds.

The executive said Hall had been in "direct and flagrant violation" of the TLC constitution in bringing about the absorption of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union by the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) last week.

DONCASTER, England, Sept. 11.—(CP)—Black Turpin, ridden by E. Britt, today won the St. Leger stakes, last classic of the flat racing season, run over one mile, six furlongs.

Black Turpin finished eighth behind My Love in the Derby last year and had run twice since. The colt won at Don in June and was beaten by a head by the Italian horse, Tenebris, in July.

Damages $410,000
In Big Calgary Fire

CALGARY, Sept. 11.—(CP)—A fierce blaze, fed by large stores of highly combustible material, Friday destroyed a two-story brick building in a $410,000 fire that city firemen fought for more than four hours.

Demolished in the three-alarm blaze were the St. James West premises of the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Co. Ltd., the Electrical Contracting and Machine Co. shop of the A. J. Shruball Plumbing Company and a garage of the S. E. Houser Co. Ltd.

The fire started inside the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Co. building at 5:30 p.m. as the staff of about 50 employees was preparing to leave the building for the day. All escaped safely.

PAINT REMOVER IGNITED
The fire, the largest and most spectacular blaze in the city in more than three years, started in the paint remover that had just been applied to a section of the office. It still is not known what caused the paint remover to ignite.

The blaze, fed by stores of paint, anti-freeze, alcohol, oil and gasoline, soon raged out of control and spread to the roof of the Electrical and Machine Co. premises in the same building.

At the height of the fire, flames leaped more than 200 feet into the air and a large section of the roof collapsed.

GLOW IN SKY NOT ATLANTIC AFIRE AGAIN

Many Edmonton residents feared last Friday night that Atlantic oil well No. 3 had caught fire again.

A lurid glow lighted the sky in the southwest around the hour of midnight but it was caused by flaring of gas from a new imperial well during drill stem tests.

A telephone call to Devon directly across the river from the well Atlantic well, was reassuring.

"Atlantic is completely dead without so much as a spark showing," the operator at the oil well telephoned The Edmonton Bulletin.

Earlier in the night there had been several anxious phone calls as the glow was clearly visible from all parts of the city.

'Unnamed' Power May Be Involved

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—(CP)—The Winnipeg Free Press said today it had learned secret airfield equipment has been stolen from Stevenson airport and that RCMP special investigators are probing the possibility an unnamed foreign power may be responsible for the thefts.

The newspaper said Transport Minister Chevier confirmed today there had been a theft of important parts of the new instrument-landing equipment and quipped him as saying, "RCMP are still investigating."

Only duplicate parts have been stolen and the operation of the system has not been affected, the Free Press quoted Mr. Chevier as saying.

The newspaper continued: "The transport minister said he understood RCMP believed the thefts could have been made by some amateurs working on radio at home."

NO USE TO 'HAM'
However, Mr. Chevier admitted the stolen equipment would be of "no use to an amateur radio man."

"An amateur might break them up and use them for other purposes," it was thought.

The paper added: "It is not known whether the equipment, some of which is understood to be on the secret list, could be of value to a potential enemy. Mr. Chevier said his understanding was that no serious view was being taken by police."

"Police have been carrying out an intensive undercover investigation of the thefts and the possibility a foreign power is involved is not being overlooked."

The paper said it is understood the equipment could be of great use to countries which have not yet perfected the latest methods of aircraft being landed on aid by police.

Superintendent C. W. Harvill of the RCMP answered only with a "no comment" when asked about the report.

Some of the instrument-landing equipment is scattered spots a considerable distance from the airport, as aircraft being in contact with the tower while four or five miles away.

The Free Press quoted Mr. Chevier as saying that the parts are kept in locked buildings but are not under guard.

The instrument-landing system is used in air navigation—as it is ready to use in the event of a breakdown in the instrument-landing system at Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver, Lethbridge, Saskatoon and Calgary.

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY SOUGHT

Most Fatal Accidents In Early Fall, Winter

In 1947, ten Edmontonians literally walked into death.

This is the statement today of the Edmonton Safety Council who are currently going all out to drive for membership and funds to ensure greater safety for the pedestrian.

Of the ten persons killed on the streets of Edmonton in 1947, eight died in the months of October, November and December.

It is a report to The Bulletin Friday. Late fall and winter is hard on pedestrians with deaths going as high as 42 per cent over the monthly average for the year.

The most important single cause of pedestrian deaths is the fact that the pedestrian is not seen by the driver.

The Safety Council, is earlier tonight releasing a booklet on the subject of pedestrian safety.

Motorists, too, says the Council, contribute to the high seasonal death toll because they fail to make allowances for the increased hazards of fall and winter driving.

Though driving on ice and snow and with lights on the winter motorist still thinks he should maintain his summer schedule.

Night accidents involving pedestrians can be reduced by strict control of negligent drivers and by more intensive education of the motorist.

The latter thought in mind, the pedestrian education will be the chief activity of the Safety Council in the months of October and November.

They will be the theme in December. Contributing to the Safety Council's operation, acknowledged to date, total $2,972.

Board Gives Decision In Restaurant Dispute

Arbitration board's decision on the dispute between the Royal George Cafe and Restaurant and the Edmonton Restaurant Association was announced yesterday, calls for union conditions similar to those already in effect in several other Edmonton restaurants.

Announcement of the arbitration award regarding this dispute, which commenced last January, was made by the provincial government's board of industrial relations.

Other restaurants referred to in the award as having union conditions recommended for the Royal George Cafe, are Johnson's Cafe and the American Dairy Lunch.

Among board recommendations are checkoff of union dues, maintenance of membership clause and a one-year contract with the union.

According to Joseph Cherrington, secretary of the Edmonton Restaurant Employees, these three conditions were the main cause of disagreement. He said that union wages had been agreed upon and paid by the provincial management since early in the negotiations.

Alberta Labor Act states that the award of an arbitration board be studied by both employer and employee, and either party may appeal.

It is the first time that the decision, though the best step in the employer's strike vote.

Labor and the Communists

The ousting of three high executive officers in the British Columbia Federation of Labor appears to be a continuation of Labor's efforts to rid itself, not only of the Communist infection, but of the very appearance of Communist infection.

This lusty repudiation of Red influence is a wholesome thing for Labor and a wholesome thing for Canada. For the suspicion of Communist domination has alienated public sympathy from Labor and created dissension within Labor ranks themselves.

The two chief factors in promoting this purge have been:

First, the realization that the implications of Communist influence was doing the Labor movement real harm, and, secondly, the realization of leftist sympathizers within the Labor movement that what they had mistaken for a Communist conviction was no more than a touch of vague social discontent.

This awakening has been due to a very large extent to the revelations in Moscow's tilt with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. It has been made very clear that no Communist party can exist anywhere except under direct control of the Soviet Union and that loyalty to the Communist party is inseparable from loyalty to Soviet Russia.

It is a fair assumption that some adherents of Labor with leftist tendencies have suddenly discovered that they could not swallow this foreign domination and that the whole Communist set-up offered them nothing but slavery to a foreign power.

Actually, the Communist party membership in Canada with leftist tendencies has been dropping steadily since the United Press survey, made in May and June last year, revealed that there were only about 23,000 avowed Communists in all Canada.

However, it is clear that even 23,000 highly articulate and mischievous plotters can be effective with 13,000,000 Canadians when it is remembered that Communist party membership even in Russia numbers only 6,000,000 out of 212,000,000 Russians.

The Labor movement is taking a courageous and creditable stand in divorcing itself completely from any possibility of Red influence. For it is obvious that even a few Communists in a vast group can have an amazingly corruptive effect.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime By Webster

ELMER, DO YOU REALIZE WHAT CLOTHES COST TODAY? I WENT DOWN TO BUY A HOUSE DRESS AND PICKED OUT THE PLAINEST, SIMPLEST, LITTLE THING. THE SALES LADY CHECKED THE TAG AND SAID, "LOOK HERE, IF YOU THINK I'M DESPERATE ENOUGH TO PAY THAT OUTRAGEOUS PRICE YOU'VE GOT ANOTHER THINK COMING! WHY, I'D SOONER MAKE MY OWN CLOTHES OUT OF FUR THAN SUBMIT TO SUCH ROBBERY!" AND I MEAN IT!

Shaken By Film, Alcoholic Swears Off the Pictures

In the background, the infectious thump-thump-thump of the dance band. The dancers shuffled about the crowded floor in the half-darkness. The silver on the circular table caught the reflection of a blue spotlight. The bubbles in a glass of ginger ale rose like tiny bright balloons.

Someone's foot suddenly lurched to the left, handsome guy said, "You must have made a good deal of money this year."

The big, handsome guy grinned acknowledgment. Then his face went blank.

"Money doesn't mean anything," he said. "All the money in the world won't buy a ham sandwich."

"I don't understand," the other man said.

"All right," the big handsome guy said, "I have a wonderful big home, the money bought for me."

"I drive a big car with a top that comes down when you press a button. Money bought it for me."

"I have a wallet full of money and I leave my home and get in behind the wheel of that fine car and I drive down to a golf course and I play golf."

"Then I got in the car and sat down and I drove home. I don't know what I'm saying."

"The other man said, 'I see what you mean.'"

"The big handsome guy got up, excused himself and went back to the dressing room. The other man said, 'I see what you mean.'"

He looked like a Negro without a care in the world.

Never again.

Retirement of Judge Dubuc

Both members of the bar and members of the public who have come in touch with him in his judicial capacity will regret the retirement from the bench of Chief Judge Lucien Dubuc.

Judge Dubuc's career on the bench in Northern Alberta has been long and distinguished.

He was elevated to a judgeship in 1920 and became chief judge on the retirement of the late Judge J. L. Crawford.

Before assuming judicial duties, he practiced law in the West in 1901.

His judicial keenness has been enriched by a warm humanity. He has brought dignity and a high personal integrity to the bench.

There will be wide regret that ill-health has brought an untimely end to a career of distinction.

It is presumed that a French-speaking jurist will be selected to succeed him. Edmonton is fortunate in having a large number of capable barristers among whom the selection may be made.

Filled With the Fullness of God

About nothing else in the world is there so much misconception as about what constitutes the feeling of being a Christian.

Many non-Christians entertain the strange notion that to be a Christian is to be replete with a fanatic emotional exaltation.

Others think that the state of being a Christian is marked only by an intellectual doctrine of the truth of all Christian doctrine.

There is, of course, a certain emotional content in the Christian Faith. And there is, of course, a logical acceptance of the Church's teaching.

But neither of these is the essence of the Christian state of mind and heart.

St. Paul says it strikingly and concisely when, in the third chapter of his letter to the Ephesians, he writes:

"I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ . . . that he would grant unto you . . . to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye . . . may be able to comprehend what is the breadth and length and depth and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God."

The first consciousness of the Christian, then, is a consciousness of the love of Christ. And the final feeling of the Christian is that he is "filled with all the fullness of God."

In other words, to be a Christian is to be a completed man. And the sensation of being a Christian is a sensation of completion.

That sense of completion is all the more marked in contrast with the characteristic spiritual emptiness of the non-Christian.

That sense of emptiness is found in every pagan religion. It runs through the lines of the pagan poets. The sterility and aimlessness of life is the complaint of every atheist. The pre-Christian philosophers, except those who had a Christian purpose, conclude that life is without purpose.

Only the Christian Faith gives point and meaning to human existence. And a sense of purposeful living is a by-product of the "fullness of God."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Children Need Sex Facts

Editor, Bulletin—As a daily reader of The Bulletin I think page four is getting better all the time. Naturally, I do not agree entirely with all the articles and news of letters to you.

One of the finest articles is H. L. Weir's on the teaching of sex education in our schools. This was very timely and to the point. The letter by M. A. in yesterday's issue to me is rather amusing.

What a terrible bunch of M.A.'s we have in charge of education in "Capital Hill." What a terrible character H. L. Weir must be. Would M.A. for the information of your readers, let us know how straight, et al., manage to get possession of those thousands for what is not apparent by the letter quite a number of us would like to know how, if true.

In spite of or because of M.A.'s ideas I very much agree with teaching this subject of sex education, especially the biological and ethical or moral aspect, when taught by those who have given special study to this very important phase of our young people's lives in this great province of Alberta. More power to you on page four.

State Ownership Of Our Banks

Editor, Bulletin—What a relief to read, Bulletin, that a government has been appearing in Bulletin editorials for the past few months to the common sense reasoning of your correspondent Mr. M. Ryder in your copy of Sept. 2.

"Could anything be more timely," he says, "than that a government, which holds all power governing the issue of money, delegates that power to private banks and thus borrows money from them at interest?"

That was the height of foolishness on the part of the government in 1907. It was also the height of wisdom on the part of the two private individuals who investigated that power out of the hands of the people of Canada by their own controlling group.

At least the CCF has always been consistent in this matter. I have been made a copy of the press July 26, 1932. It quotes the first plan of the new CCF party, organized in Calgary the day before, as demanding "nationalization of our finances and credit system."

A copy of the press, also beside me, dated August 14, 1932, quotes the financial resolution at the first CCF convention in Regina as "the socialization of finance, that is of all financial machinery, banking, currency, credit, and insurance."

On the other hand the Social Crediters have done so much political juggling on this subject that no thoughtful person can form any opinion about the party and its method of court judgment for a driver who has the misfortune to be involved in an accident on our own roads governing it. In 1932 Mr. Abernethy said before the provincial committee: "There is no doubt of hand in Social Credit . . . no nationalization for taking away of anything from the private banks."

On March 30th 1943 the Report of the Social Credit Board just suggested complete control of issuance of credit and currency as a step in post-war reconstruction.

In that year Mr. Welch, M.P. for Social Credit, in the House of Commons. "The only fair and sound way to deal with the white question of effective control is to nationalize the chartered banks."

Two days later Mr. Blackmore, S.C. federal leader, said: "In order to be logical we must leave the commercial banks in private hands."

Mr. Editor, are the facts of the registered opinions of both CCF and Social Credit. I leave it to you to decide which is logical and consistent and I suggest to you that it would be interesting if you would express your opinion about Mr. Ryder's most illuminative review of the white question sometimes not too illuminative of the white question.

Alberta Highways

Editor, Bulletin—In the past few months of driving, to and from the city, I have noticed especially at night, I often wonder how come more people aren't killed on our highways.

We have a narrow path about the city limits, and it is not enough for two cars to pass on, in fact on weekends when going to the city, I have often heard behind about 30 cars and meeting a continuing stream of traffic.

The Sunday food was all prepared on Saturday. There were special cakes and fancy rolls and a big bowl of pancake batter was set up for the Sunday breakfast.

When breakfast was cleared away, the womenfolk, who were dressed in their best, in the same of discomfort and had a huge bill until the table was set up.

Grandma was the keystone of the family structure. She was the master of its policies, the arbiter of its morals and the source of its traditions.

When my father was young, he had heard him say, "I don't like to talk back. He was not a meek kid. God knows, but he held it.

Somewhere I delight to remember him Grandma.

ODDS AND ENDS

While We're Revisiting the Dim Past, Also Remember Grandma

As you will have noticed, there has been a spate of reminiscence in the movies as well as in the public prints.

In the past five years we have had a mild epidemic of picture biographies in nature.

Everybody from Thomas Edison to Al Jolson has been glorified on the screen.

Best of them, of course, are those of the great actors, who, as we all know, were not only great actors, but great men.

There was a mail service once every two weeks and somebody had to go seven miles to collect it.

All that first summer, the prairie fire raged in every direction because the prairie grass was still long and lush and settlers coming into the country were careless with fire.

Grandma was still long and lush and settlers coming into the country were careless with fire.

One of the greatest objections felt by Eastern Canadians in regard to settling in the North West was the alleged impossibility of growing apples, plums, cherries and grapes. If it were possible to grow them, much of the misadventure, exaggeration about the climate could be dispelled.

Edmonton College Prepares Thousands for Vocations

Thousands of students have been prepared for their life work during a half century of teaching by David Elston, president of Edmonton College Incorporated, here.

A resident of Alberta for 40 years, Mr. Elston established Edmonton College in 1921 and has pioneered in teaching instruction and organization.

Though a veteran teacher in the U.S. and Canada since the turn of the century, Mr. Elston supports the most modern instructional methods.

NEW WING MODERN
A new wing being built to the Edmonton College will contain the latest scientific equipment and designs for child instruction.

A penmanship expert and organizer of veterans' schools following World War One, Mr. Elston first began teaching in Western Ontario at the turn of the century.

Following graduation from the modestly-named "Canada's Greatest College of Commerce" where he was a medalist in penmanship, Mr. Elston was appointed to the Commerce department in a large Washington college.

ARRIVED IN 1907
On arrival in Edmonton in 1907, Mr. Elston was appointed director of the department of commerce at Alberta College.

During his career as a penmanship expert, Mr. Elston has been called on to give opinions on handwriting, relating to forged and disputed documents, by the Attorney General's department.

The pioneer teacher was retained by the Crown to give his evidence as a handwriting expert on many major trials conducted in Alberta from the famous "King" murder trial to the more recent Pagnone and McLean trials at Red Deer and Vegreville.

AWARDS WON
During five consecutive years his penmanship students at Alberta

College won gold medal awards from the Penman's Art Journal and Business Journal of New York City.

Following World War One, Mr. Elston was appointed by the Federal department of soldiers civil re-establishment to prepare courses of office work for returned disabled veterans at the NCR schools in Calgary, Edmonton and Frank.

Edmonton College, first established by Mr. Elston in 1921, began its career by providing adults with commerce, language and cultural instruction.

Kindergarten service at the college was first established in 1935 and expanded rapidly during the course of World War Two.

Instruction was also extended to include all school grades in grade eight.

CHILDREN HELP
The Elston family of three sons and a daughter have all aided in the development of the college.

School Designing Offers New Aids

Latest Improvements Built In
At Edmonton College Annex

Western Canada's most modern classrooms will be contained in the new annex being added to the Edmonton College.

Latest up-to-date equipment and design are built into the new addition to the college to provide topnotch conditions for modern instructional methods.

Included in the new wing to provide healthful, scientific surroundings for the youngsters are the latest air conditioning, air draft heating and fluorescent lighting units.

Colorful pastel shades and big windows add brightness to the spacious, airy classrooms.

The new 25 by 35 foot wing, built onto the main structure of the college, has one classroom in the basement and one on the upper floor.

Designed as a light deflector, the tile flooring is inlaid in subdued pastel colors of green, brown and black in specially-designed patterns.

Also easy on the youngsters' eyes are the carefully decorated walls which are turned out in eye-saving pastel shades.

There'll be plenty of light in the new classrooms for the children, too. The upper room will have a total of 125 square feet of window space built into its walls, making 30 per cent of the wall space in windows.

The basement classroom is equipped with glass brick windows of the latest type.

Four Northern Alberta artists of popular music, vocal and instrumental, will get a chance to play with one of Canada's leading dance orchestras.

The four, as yet unborn, will play with Mart Kenney's orchestra on Sept. 21, when the Kenney 28-String plays at the Trocadero. A talent quest, sponsored by C.I.C.A., has been running the past two weeks to choose the young artists who will appear on the Trocadero bandstand with Mart Kenney's 28-String.

Britain Shifting Pacific Command

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The admiralty announced Friday that headquarters of the Pacific Fleet will be transferred from Hong Kong to Singapore Sept. 15. Admiral Sir Dennis W. OPERATOR PICKS PAL FROM WARM SPOT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Here's something new in fire rescue technique. Steelworker Blackie Mihalke was hanging from a second-story ledge with flames licking around him Wednesday. His buddy, Bryan Bryant, had already jumped, breaking an ankle and suffering internal injuries.

Then Crane Operator J. D. Grundon, on the same remodeling project, went into action. He yanked levers and the big steel swung out toward Mihalke. The worker grabbed the cable, got on the hook and was lowered to the ground, with no hurts worse than minor hand burns.

Wallace told the "Yankee Doodle" rally, held after a 24-hour postponement because of rain, that on his recent southern tour—punctuated by egg and tomato throwing—he had tasted the ugly reality of Fascism.

"I have tasted it neither so fully nor so bitterly as millions of others," he said, "but I have tasted it."

The Virtue of Charity

The first rule for world peace was made by God when He commanded men to love one another. We call this the virtue of charity. Its test is not in the natural affection or kindness which we all have, but in what we do, say, or think in regard to those who may actually hate us, and whom, in turn, we may cordially dislike. Based on simple justice, charity transcends all limitations of sentiment, race, creed, or station.

Charity is said to begin at home, but it must not stop there. It must go everywhere, speak every language. It must be together Negro and Oriental, Anglo-Saxon and Indian. It must include every what, see every want, cry out in the name of every burdened heart. It must find its way into prisons as well as hospitals; envelop the rich as well as the poor, the unworthy as well as the righteous.

Charity, above all, must forgive. It must raise its voice against the iniquities and vices of enemies, yet plead for love of the brutal and debased. The sinner must never be placed beyond its pale; that is God's injunction. Over and over again we must remind ourselves that charity everlastingly links us to our enemies. Justice must be done; the hand of the guilty must be tied forever; but the Christian conscience must remember that charity has its place also in the courts of law.

Men may seek to break the links of charity, cry out in rage against the "aforesaid" of the Christian doctrine of love; but in the end they will realize that charity is not softness but strength and wisdom, that it is the only hope of securing justice without breeding new hates to plague the world; that to lack charity today may be to lack peace and security tomorrow.

Young People Form Synodical Group

A gathering of Presbyterian Young People representing such churches as Edmonton, Calgary and Banff formed the beginning of a synodical society to help the young people from all over the province when they met at Sylvan Camp last week-end.

This society will help to provide unity and liaison in Presbyterian Young People's work throughout the province.

The following officers were elected: Mitchell Scott of Edmonton—president; Raymond Board of Calgary—vice-president; Marjorie Croft of Edmonton—secretary-treasurer.

Edmonton delegates: Warner Troyer, Helen McNeill and Flora Whitford. Calgary delegates: Edward Olson and Jean McLean. Jean Blackburn is the delegate from Banff.

The week-end activities included singing, camp fire, boating, tennis and swimming. Film brought from the University of Alberta was shown at a Sunday evening gathering and concluded by a lively discussion.

Among the camp high spots were singing songs which concluded each day. Rev. L. J. Hansen, the camp director and young people's adviser, proved himself an able supervisor in all matters.

A constitution is being prepared by the synodical executive and will be presented at the next meeting.

Inside Hollywood

By Ralph Dighton
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—The most gorgeous hunk of cheesecake to come from Germany since Marlene Dietrich is about to be uncrowned in Hollywood.

She's been in town since last March but has been kept closely guarded by Producer David O. Selznick.

Her name is Hildgarde Neff. She was discovered by American newspaperman in Berlin after the war. They found her singing in German cafes, or acting in German stock companies, and wrote home that she was like a flower blooming amid the rubble of a bombed-out city. She was so popular that national picture magazines spread her face and figure over uncensored pages.

She came to the United States last January, was met in New York City by Selznick and placed under contract.

SELZNICK TREATMENT

Miss Neff couldn't understand English. That's been remedied now. In the intervening months Selznick has given her the same treatment with which he conditioned Greta Garbo, Ingrid Bergman and Eliza Vail for professional careers in this country.

In an interview, Miss Neff told a story of personal tragedy which, in a movie, would be considered corny. She escaped being Naziified, or imprisoned, during the Hitler era only because she was a victim of infantile paralysis.

Often separated from her parents, she lived a hand-to-mouth existence with any relative or friend who could and would feed her. For recreation she turned to painting.

BECAME AN ACTRESS

She was working in the art department of a German movie studio during the war when an executive spotted her. Her slow recovery from paralysis by then had become nearly complete, and she became an actress.

Physically, despite her earlier illness, Miss Neff has at least as much of everything that Dietrich had 30 years ago. Proof of this is the way she met her husband, an ex-United States Army officer named Kurt Hirsch, in Berlin.

"He whisked at me," she confided. Ruby and emerald-studded palladium guard rings are a staid complement to your wedding band whether it is plain or engraved.

Attlee Government To See Leaders

Trades Union Congress Urges Action on Cost of Living

By Fraser Wighton

MARGATE, Kent, England, Sept. 11.—(Reuters)—The government, faced with the annual trade union conference's strong call for more vigorous steps to reduce the cost of living, is expected to have early talks with trade union leaders.

The Congress, at its 80th conference here, Thursday re-endorsed the principles of the government's policy to stabilize wages, prices and profits.

CAN'T COMPEL SUPPORT

But the TUC has no power to compel the support of its huge membership in the factories and its backing may be of little value unless industrial workers are satisfied that the government's price and profit-making measures are strong enough to give stabilized wages real value.

Earlier in the week Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told Congress plainly that this could only be done by more production from each individual. He made the point that a further 10 per cent cut in corporation profits would add only 4 pence (1 cent) per pound (141) to each worker's earnings.

Gardiner Affirms Highway Need

Agriculture Minister Stresses Need for United Effort

By Aron Mackenzie

NELSON, B.C., Sept. 11.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister James G. Gardiner last night told the southern Trans-Canada Highway Association, Canada was the only civilized country he knew that lacked a national highway and one was essential.

But, in addressing the banquet where a three day caravan of cars from Regina and points onward had assembled, he said any campaigning for a national highway should come as a unit and not from north or south.

"You say to roads," he told the association, which boasts the most feasible for any Trans-Canada road, "that you will get your southern road faster if you ask for federal roads through the center and north as well."

"My idea of a national road, which would be federally built and maintained, is a road which cuts to its destination through the shortest possible point."

That, Mr. Gardiner said, would supply a national road not to be confused with interurban roads which could be provincially administered and which would connect city to city and province to province as well as linking to the main federal artery or arteries.

Interurban roads were the only roads Canada had so far.

OFFICIALS SPEAK
Earlier at the banquet, climaxing a meeting of the association where officers were elected, three provincial government representatives spoke.

C. C. Williams, Saskatchewan minister of labor, E. C. Carlson, B.C. minister of highways, and John MacKinnon, Social Credit member of parliament for Lethbridge, outlined their contributions and

GREEDY FISH NEED NOT DIE

NOTTINGHAM, Eng. Sept. 11.—(CP)—Pet fish are inclined to indigestion when indulgent owners overfeed them. But G. F. Campbell, 60, has cheerful news about fish dyspepsia.

Results of fish overeating themselves need not be fatal, he says—provided they are treated in time.

"If treatment is delayed, an operation might be necessary," he adds. "That is always dangerous because it has to be performed out of water."

Campbell should know. He runs a free hospital for fish. There he treats sick fish—sometimes a mild laxative does the trick—and he claims a 90 per cent recovery rate.

Tiltman, Oeming, Mazurki at op

Tonight the "rasslers" make their opening comeback bid at the Stock Pavilion. And here and now we want to suggest that the scene of the scheduled grand-and-groan heroes seems entirely appropriate, considering the heft (and not all of it muscle, by any means) of many of the present day heavyweights.

Also we're inclined to the hope that matchmaker Larry Tiltman and his good looking University of Alberta student-associate, youthful Al Oeming, make a go of it.

There's a certain faith in every community. "Wrestling belongs on the entertainment page of a newspaper, if it belongs anywhere," they decide.

But for every can't-fool-me critter there's a Joe or Jill hot in search of excitement and the wrestlers hold the answer where he or she is concerned.

The last wrestling show we saw was in Winnipeg in the spring. Close to 4,000 jammed their way into the auditorium. It was a real good bill, from the lid-differ to where the headliners took over in the last match of the night.

Along about the halfway mark a spectator slumped to the floor. He was dead in a few minutes. Possibly he was ticketed to cash in his chips that night anyway. But it's plain to see how the sport affects its more enthusiastic followers.

Then There's Paulette Goddard

The card with which Messrs. Tiltman and Oeming make their first campaign speech apparently should serve as a good re-introduction of the new hero-babes.

One of the mainlines scheduled to see action is "Iron Mike" Mazurki. Whatever of Mike's attainments when appearing pachyderms start making with the Boston crab, airplane man and more "bells" he will certainly bring a touch of Hollywood to the proceedings because of his work in the flickers down California-way.

For instance Mazurki has been right alongside Paulette Goddard. So what matter whether the fellow can make it to the ropes in time to stave off having his shoulders nailed to the canvas?

"Iron Mike" is born on a Christmas Day. If, as a result, there's anything of the Santa Claus about him the Tiltman-Oeming axis will be hoping he pays off for them at the box office.

As to the box office Tiltman, who has made a good success in Calgary over the past six months, says he's here to stay for some time, regardless of the early fan response.

If the Goods Prove Good . . .

There's no good reason why the Mazurkis, Harms, Marmorek and other members-in-good-standing of the Razzlers Guild shouldn't get across with their specialty in those parts.

Nevertheless Tiltman proves himself a wise hombre in the fact he is holding no casting over his first few shows. Hereabouts wrestling is as cold as a mackerel after being steeped in the sports picture for so long. But it should warm up, probably very gradually.

For one thing the old bugbear of where to hold the show is only partially solved, for the time being, in the use of the new Stock Pavilion. However the promoters can be optimistic in their hope they will find out the good numbers as they do to the Arena, little more than 50 yards away, for hockey.

Mainly Tiltman's chances of making wrestling pay in Edmonton depend on the quality of his merchandise. This is a boom town insofar as crowds at sports attractions. But the show has to have something to recommend it for definitely Edmonton is not a sucker town.

JACK STARKY OUSTED FROM TOTEM TROUPEY

JASPER, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Gordon Verley, Victoria, and J. Edgar Green, Seattle, will meet Saturday over the 30-hole route in the finals of the 10th annual Totem Troupe tournament.

Verley, an unsuccessful finalist last year against Bing Crosby, won his way into the final round with a 3 and 2 triumph over Dr. V. E. Fowler, Astoria. Or. Green came through in the other half when he turned back the challenge of Jack Starky. The shot-maker from Edmonton, previous Totem Pole king in 1933 and 1936, went under a 4 and 2 to his Seattle opponent.

Repeating her victory of last year with an exhibition of superb golf, Mrs. J. H. Todd, of the Oak Bay Golf Club, Victoria, defeated Mrs. Frank Dunn, Broadmoor Golf Club, Seattle, in the final for the ladies championship Friday morning 5-2.

Mrs. John Michaels, Edmonton, won the fourth flight finish over Mrs. Fowler at the 10th.

A BIG MAN AND A HOT PUTTER was the story as Gordon McGlynn won the Alberta police golf title at Hightlands Friday.

Sloux City Ghosts played it straight-face at Kingway

Friday night but still couldn't defeat Singers in an exhibition contest. Their 2-1 loss to the locals gave them a 2-2 record here for the season and a 2-1 edge in the three-game stand which ended last night.

Three pitchers, Don Harkness,

St. Cowan and Gord Weick combined to hold the colored visitors to four hits and a single run. Singers only picked up one hit off Harkness second baseman Billy Hoyt but combined it with four errors for their two losses.

All told, Lloyd struck out

20 Edmonton batters. St. McCaskill tripled and came home on a wild pitch in the fourth for the winners' first run while Harkness scored the other two runs and a wild pitch in the seventh. Rip Collins' double, a ghostly error in the fifth.

Letter to Editor

Gentlemen:

Say, what goes on? I quote from a sports page article in Wednesday's Bulletin: "Frank Cunniff, who piloted Western Mercury to the western Canada Intermediate final last year only to lose out to New Westminster." Come on, wake up. Where were you when the Mercury won the trophy for the best four-man team?

Chief Jennings, speaking for the golf association, said he was happy there had been such a fine and expressive display of the tournament would continue to expand.

It was announced that next year's final would be in Calgary. The golf association said he was happy there had been such a fine and expressive display of the tournament would continue to expand.

Trusty Putter Carries McGlynn to Police Title

By Jim McCurdy

A trusty putter Friday carried

Gord McGlynn of Edmonton to victory in the seventh annual Alberta Police Golf Association tournament at the Highlands course.

McGlynn, a solid member of the RCMP, hit the previously held by Chief Jess Jennings of the Edmonton City Police, Jim Simenau, another Monte, by a 2 and 1 margin.

Manitoba Politics Develop New Twist

Coalition May Crumble Over Liberal Manoeuvre

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—(CP)—Manitoba's eight-year political truce under coalition government appeared headed toward a crisis today.

CANNONBALL ACT GETS VOLUNTEER

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—(CP)—Mrs. Ethel Kearns yesterday volunteered to be shot from a cannon in value enough money to buy a farm for herself and three children.

Under an unwritten agreement between the two parties since coalition was formed in 1940, Progressive Conservatives and Liberals do not oppose each other in single-member seats until Wednesday the procedure had been that each party retained the seats which it held at that time.

Mr. Hargney was elected by a vote of 58 to 53 at the joint convention of 116 accredited delegates, 113 attended the meeting, five abstained and one was absent.

Resentment over the nomination has been so strong that a special meeting of all party members in parliament and the provincial legislature has been called for September 14.

Plane at Full Power Past Speed of Sound

By James McCook

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(CP)—A fair-haired boyish pilot, Sept. 11, John Derry, 26, today took a break from his flying in a screaming dive.

Derry was brought to meet reporters after the official announcement Thursday that he had flown through the "barrier of sound" in a swallow aircraft shaped like an arrow point.

"The main instrument in the cockpit showed much more than one which is the speed of sound or at the altitude about 675 miles an hour," he said. "I was between 30,000 and 40,000 feet. I was at full power at the end of the dive. I saw the needle go past each number one."

NOT TOO MUCH SURE "What did I do? I started to pull out at once. There's not too much sky at that speed."

EMPLOYMENT DROPS IN U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A drop in employment and individual income in the United States from the second half of mid-summer was reported yesterday by the Commerce department.

Employment fell to 61,353,000 in August, a 200,000 drop from the July peak. Slackened farm operations were the cause.

Total incomes of individuals in the United States for the first half of the year were reported for July at annual rate of $11,000,000,000.

The Campbell-Mannix Construction Co., which has had the contract for building the road into R.C. Vance River district, has been granted a flat to save the government for the $150,000 the story said.

As a result, said report, the whole John Hart highway "affair" will be aired in court and responsibility for the "collapse" apportioned.

The dispatch said it is reported the construction company is seeking to bring action against the government for an additional $2,000,000.

U.S. Defence Price Mounts Higher

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The Truman administration formally disclosed today it has set a record $15,000,000,000 limit on the first year's United States military budget. This is about $5,000,000,000 more than was set aside for this year.

Budget Director James Webb emphasized that the proposed outlay will be subject to adjustment if changes in the international situation warrant such action.

Don't Like It? Burn The Place!

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Hannah Lane, 54, and unhappy with suburban Woodville, was accused yesterday of using fire means to move.

She was ordered held in trial for setting her house ablaze.

"My husband won't get out of the place," a defective testified she told him, "so I tried to burn it down. I don't like Woodville."

LUNENBURG, N.S.—(CP)—When storm-squalls smashed the rudder of Capt. Roy Lohr's boat Blue and Shale, he was forced to anchor for the night five miles offshore.

Next day, by adjusting the two engines of the twin-engine craft to different speeds, he steered a course back to Lunenburg.

Pulls Own Achers, Sends in Bill

EASTBOURNE, Sussex, England, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Officials of the Dental Board have a problem to ponder. It concerns the new National Health Program re-entraining dentists to dental and medical activities for which the government pays the bills.

A dentist who pulled two of his own aching teeth had sent the government a bill for professional services.

"What made you decide to put off your wedding by two days?" "Well, you see, I reckoned that my silver wedding would come on a Saturday, and I always play golf on Saturdays."

Rose Will Not Face Other Charges

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—(CP)—Henri Monty, K.C. chief crown prosecutor, announced today that substantive charges against Fred Rose, serving a one-year term for his connection with espionage activities, will be withdrawn.

Rose, former member of parliament, was convicted in 1944 of conspiracy to violate the Official Secrets Act. The substantive charges, not since presented with deals with related allegations resulting from the Russian espionage disclosures of 1945.

Though no official reason was announced for the withdrawal, it was learned that since Rose already is serving a long sentence, it was not considered logical to press the substantive charges.

Richmond Clock Disintegrates Sleepers

RICHMOND, Surrey, England, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A German bomb destroyed the striking mechanism of the town clock here in 1940. For eight long years Richmonders longed to hear the bell again.

Two weeks ago, the striker finally was fixed.

Yesterday a group of residents petitioned the town council to have the bell silenced.

After all that time, they said, it keeps them awake nights.

Greatest Battleship Assumes New Role

By Joan Caprell

WEYMOUTH BAY, England, Sept. 11.—(Reuters)—Preparations are underway here to convert the giant 40,000-ton battleship Vanguard into a floating platform to take the King and Queen and Princess Margaret on their Australian tour next January.

Dope Charge Brings Term

VANCOUVER, Sept. 11.—(CP)—E. C. Morgan, 22-year-old Toronto "outlet" for a Trans-Canada car rental, yesterday was sentenced to 30 years in prison for possession of $15,000 worth of morphine.

Magistrate Peter C. O'Brien sentenced him to pay a $200 fine or spend an extra month in jail.

Evidence revealing the finding of 20 capsules of the drug by RCMP investigators, and told of concealed officers watching the car until two men came out on Sept. 28. Morgan was one of the men.

In defence, the accused said, "I was broke and had intended shipping out when I was approached and offered a chance to make money. I didn't care how I made it."

BRIDGE Tricky Play Makes Seven Hearts Here

By William E. McKenney

Although I am not a problem fan myself, I know that many people enjoy problems, or double dummy play. For those who do enjoy them, I am giving you one today that I ran across in a little magazine called "Chatter," published by the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania. The problem is to make seven hearts against any possible defence. Let me suggest that you lay all of the cards out on a table. If you want to go to work on it.

♠ A K 8 5 2	♥ A 5 4	♦ A 5 4	♣ A 5 4
♠ Q 10 7	♥ 10 9 8 7 5	♦ 10 9 8 7 5	♣ 10 9 8 7 5
♠ J 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♥ 6 5 4 3 2	♦ 6 5 4 3 2	♣ 6 5 4 3 2
♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♥ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

The first tip I will give you is that West's opening lead is the queen of spades. Now, if you have spent two hours on the problem and have not found the solution, I will tell you that it consists of a coup and a double-squeeze play. The following is the solution, as given in "Chatter."

The queen of spades is trumped.

IT'S THE LAW, YESSIRE!

Yep, a Parson Can Cross River for Free: on Ferry

By Pat McVean

Thirty years and four bridges after Edmonton clergymen crossed the North Saskatchewan river by ferry, a by-law freeing them of toll charges is still in effect.

This information is contained in a by-law of the "Consolidated By-Laws of the City of Edmonton, 1917," still used almost daily by the clerk of city council, Alice Gilchrist and court clerk, S. J. Irvine in preparing court information.

While some of the by-laws published in the old book have since been repealed, many others are still in force.

TIME MAKES OBSOLETE
A few, though still technically in effect, are not being enforced any more because time rather than legality has made them obsolete.

Today, should a ferryman set up in opposition to Edmonton's four bridges, he would be bound by by-law 33 to give free transportation to clergymen crossing the river on their way to or from church.

Nor could he charge more than five cents toll for a horse and rider, or more than five cents for the owner of a "motor car or truck" carried by ferry across the river.

The by-law further decrees that a ferryman is to permit a wagon team of horses, and driver to make a single trip across the river to ferry for only ten cents. Under any other subsection, the whole trip, including the horse and driver, would cost more for an additional five cents.

NO LAMP POST KNOTS
Drafted in the era when Edmonton was somewhat apprehensive of

to clergymen crossing the river on their way to or from church.

Unchanged is their by-law of that year stating "no person shall keep more than two cows within any stable, pen, byre, yard or other enclosure within the city without having first procured a certificate from the medical officer."

Nor repealed or amended, but merely rendered obsolete by the current housing shortage, which makes it easier to rent a barn than a house, is this subsection of another 1917 by-law:

"No person shall keep any horse, cow, calf, pig, fowls, ducks, geese, or other poultry within any place placed for a dwelling house."

City Schools Open Monday

Decision Made After Lifting of Polio Ban

Edmonton primary and intermediate schools will open on Monday.

This follows decision by the Local Board of Health not to reimpose the ban on children under 14 years from gathering in public places.

COMING HERE

2 Camels And Donkey Need Home

"Who in Edmonton has living quarters for two well behaved camels and a good-natured donkey?"

That is the question confronting Carl Fraser of Buffalo, N.Y., who is advance agent of the Black Hills Passion Play coming to the Strand Theatre for an 11-day engagement, October 3 through 16.

The production is being brought here by the Edmonton Rotary Club as a civic project. It is Mr. Fraser's duty to find either an empty garage, barn or building, some place in the vicinity of the theatre, where the animals can be lodged for the evening performance. They are used in one of the 25 scenes in the apocryphal drama.

Mr. Fraser when telling a reporter that he would have been plenty of barns suitable for housing accommodation for livestock but today, well I just don't know the answer. I've a real problem to solve.

Any reader of The Bulletin having an empty garage building to offer, please write to Edmonton Rotary Club, Passion Play headquarters, 10172 38 Street.

Motorcycle Rider Has Narrow Escape
An unidentified motorcyclist narrowly escaped death or serious injury when he was struck by an automobile and knocked down at 113 street and Jasper avenue Friday.

Driver of the automobile, A. Courton, 8014 163 street, helped the motorcyclist rider to his feet. The man said he was not injured.

Reduction in Parking Fines Recommended

Fine for parking violations will be reduced from $1 to 50 cents if a recommendation of the city commissioners is accepted by city council.

The Bulletin strongly advocated reduction in the fine. Representations have been made by the Alberta Motor Association and many other organizations that the penalty for infractions of the parking meter by-law was too severe.

Revenue from fines collected for violations up to August 31 totaled $4,006. Revenue from parking meter fines in the period totaled $2,363.

This is a total of $4,045 in revenue from the meters in approximately 30 days.

The commissioners are of the opinion that the fine for over-parking at parking meters should be reduced and recommend a penalty of 50 cents instead of $1.

IT WASN'T GAG CHOKING HOPE

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11—(AP)—Comedian Bob Hope choked on one of his last night.

Bob was gagging at an after-dinner rehearsal for his NBC radio show when he gagged for breath. Other members of the cast immediately to help him, then called the Hollywood emergency hospital.

Dr. Nicholas M. Ribon removed a fish bone from Hope's throat. Bob recovered his composure and the rehearsal went on.

Firemen Busy At Bush Fire

A bush fire burning over an area of about two square blocks "up" use city fire department rig out only for several hours at 119 avenue and 124 street Friday before it was extinguished.

No serious damage was caused by the blaze.

City firemen also responded in quick fire and in a small gasoline blaze at a South Side service station Friday, extinguishing both without damage.

Juveniles are believed to be responsible for a fire in a room Friday night at an investigation is being made.

IT'S BACK TO SCHOOL FOR EDMONTON YOUNGSTERS

FIRST DAY of school every year is pretty exciting for any child and it's doubly so for six-year-old David Timmerman because it's the first day ever for him. One year older than David, Barbara Johns wants to show him that school can be fun. With grade 1 behind her, she is confident that next year will be even better. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johns, 11127 86 avenue and David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Thorsen, 11113 82 avenue.

AN APPLE FOR TEACHER...EVEN AT KINDERGARTEN

PRETTY HAPPY about school days being here again is Terry Jackman, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jackman, 11249 91 street. His mother thinks his kindergarten classes are a good idea too. Although of tender age, Terry is an avid reader and even plays the piano. He's as full of sunshine as the bright autumn day.

WATCH CLOSELY CHILDREN AND YOU SHALL LEARN

I LEARNED THIS at school, Barbara Colville tells five-year-old twins, Diane and Barbara Davidson. They're not old enough to go to school this year but they're eyeing their friend's books and cragging longingly. Maybe they're thinking of trying out some of this education now. Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Davidson of Vernon, B.C., they are visiting in Edmonton with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Stanley. Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Colville, 21611 96 street.

Long Awaited School Days Here Again

Ringling school bells Monday at 9 a.m. mark a momentous occasion for hundreds of city youngsters. Monday is the first day of school.

School opening is always a red letter date for the kiddies. Now is the day the new sweater may be worn and the brand new shoes put on. There's generally a new pencil box and last just may drop a shiny dime into a pocket.

The children, too, resemble new pennies. However dirty they may become, they all start off to school with scrubbed necks and shining faces. Soap and water sessions are all important the morning school opens.

To many of the youngsters it's old stuff. One's considered an experienced hand at the game if he's entering grades two or three. Should be he's enrolling in grades four or five then there's nothing to this school business.

But it's a new and exciting experience for many a boy and girl. All the lairs of reading, writing and 'rithmetic will soon become a reality for youngsters entering the first grade.

It's a safe bet that in homes throughout the city, children in primary grades will be tucked into bed early Sunday night. In some cases Saturday's bath may be scheduled for Sunday for every mother is certain that her child is at least going to make a proper beginning.

Yet the children aren't the only ones who enjoy the opening of school. Mothers and dads find it amusing especially when it's their child who answered the teacher's question correctly. Nonstop tales that first day will be many and strange.

Mothers will have sighs of relief knowing that for another 10 months the children are in competent hands. Dads, though suffering from depleted pocket books, may rest assured that the headlong spree is over 'til the next time.

SCHOOL DAYS CALL FOR EAGER SMILES

YOU'LL LIKE IT, says Linda Lee, age seven, to Penny Gee, age six and just starting on this long, long adventure of school. She's sure she'll like it too. Her mother and father are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Lee, 11114 81 avenue. Linda lives right next door with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lee, 11120 83 avenue.

Woman Mayor Holds Berlin Together

At 61, Frail Frau Schroeder Caught In Four Power Row

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A wife of a woman mayor is trying to hold this quartered, besieged city together. Governing a city of ruins and 3,250,000 hungry Germans over which the Allies are quarrelling would be a two-fisted he-man's job any place in the world. For the past 15 or 16 months frail 61-year-old Louise Schroeder has been shouldered with the task.

When she took the job a year ago last May, she thought it would be only temporary until the four Allied commanders could agree on a mayor. The Russians refused to approve Dr. Ernst Thälmer, a Social Democrat who was duly elected.

At the month's passage, the difference between the Russian commander and his western opposite numbers deepened. And Louise Schroeder has landed squarely in the middle of an intense East-West struggle over Berlin and the wider issue of Germany.

Sitting like a school-teacher in her simple office, gray-haired Frau Schroeder carries her responsibilities calmly and cheerfully. Every move she makes is aimed at surrounding the unique problem of administering a world capital divided by the occupying powers.

"The dignity among the Allies is being fought out on the backs of the Berliners," she says Berlin is important, but has become the sufferer.

Here always was an uneasy job of meeting the minds of East and West without offending either.

"I now must deal with four commanders where I used to work with a single Allied body," Frau Schroeder says. "Everything I want to do must have four approvals, and the western commanders usually act in unison."

"I am working to hold Berlin together. No matter what the Allies say, or do Berlin is a unit, and I was chosen mayor by all of them."

Frau Schroeder is affectionately called "Mother" of Berlin although her name until nine years ago was Altona, near Hamburg.

The first German woman to occupy such an important office, she meets visitors early in her downtown office in the Russian sector of Berlin. Bright eyes behind heavy horn-rimmed glasses bid visitors welcome. Her office is a roomy, pleasant, covered with a yellow cloth and neat stacks of papers before her on the desk.

A member of the Social Democratic party, Frau Schroeder was elected to the city assembly in the landslide election which the social democrats won over the rival Communist dominated Socialist Unity party in 1946.

U.S. Strike Hits Alaska's Food Stocks

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Groceries were being rationed in Nome yesterday as the Northwest Alaska Chamber of Commerce appealed to striking maritime unions and U.S. government officials to arrange shipment of a boatload of winter supplies.

Stores already have reported they are out of potatoes. One bakery was closed down because of lack of flour and the only other bakery is putting out a limited amount of bread which is not meeting demands.

Stores said that groceries put out on a rationed basis, may last a few weeks.

The chamber addressed its telegram to Harry Bridges of the CIO longshoremen, President Truman, Territorial Governor Ernest Gruening and the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

It said "this section will be without many necessities of life in the next few weeks." The Chamber asked that one ship be permitted to bring in winter supplies about Oct. 1 "since we are closed in for seven months each year."

DID COUNCIL GET CIGARS?

HALIFAX, Sept. 11.—(CP)—The mayor's statistics were wrong and Aldermen Frank Adams knew it for a fact.

"Gentlemen, if anybody is interested," Mayor J. E. Ahern told a city council meeting last night, "the Halifax dog population is 2,399. I don't know if the council is interested in the number of dogs in the city."

Spirit 'Clicks' On Special 'Touch'

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A newly formed International Spiritualists' Federation got off to a hectic start yesterday.

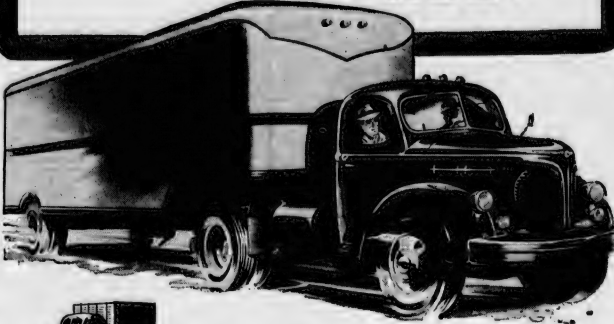

Eve Lees said her father, the late Robert James Lees, sent her a message from the beyond asking her to donate £20 (about a year to the federal in his behalf). She forked it over.

Tulip Expert Dies

PHILIPSBURG, N.J., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Arthur Trevelyan, "Budding" 71, who influenced the Darwin cult in the United States, died Wednesday at his home near Bloomsbury. The horticulturist and expert on roses also introduced to the United States the Spencer sweet pea. He was a native of Chester, Cheshire, England.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF TRUCK

.... BUILT BY REO!

REO is a different kind of truck. It turns in a shorter radius—parks easier in tight places—gets through traffic faster—has more load space per inch of wheelbase. Reo's are engineered by men who build only trucks and buses. Every tool in the plant, every finished part, every feature, is designed to give truck operators practical economy and maximum profits.

Take Reo's precision-built Gold-Crown engine. It is designed specially for trucks. It has ample power for big loads and steep grades. Reo frames are massive, cold-rolled. Every chassis part is constructed for heavy-duty, for work and wear. Dual primary brakes are built to stop quickly, safely. Ask the nearby Reo dealer or distributor for facts about Reo's exclusive More-Load design—and other unusual features. REO MOTOR COMPANY of Canada, Ltd., Leaside, Toronto.

The World is being told about ALBERTA

Do YOU know the facts about IRRIGATION?

In the London Houses of Parliament, in the industrial offices of New York, wherever men of decision are there is being told the story of Alberta's irrigation promise. Join the ranks of Alberta's prodigious natural resources. Here, for instance, are some figures on irrigation:

There are 785,015 acres in Southern Alberta entirely independent of rainfall. Irrigated acres—quenched by water fed from the eternal snows of the Rockies.

Flax seed, corn, peas, tomatoes, beans, sugar beets, mixed grains, small fruits—all are being grown on these fertile areas. Great new irrigation projects are now under construction—they will add an additional 400,000 acres to Alberta's irrigated districts. Thus, over a million acres will soon be "under the ditch". Remember this—irrigation guarantees agricultural industrialists crops that never fail. Know about it, tell about it—help to build Alberta.

The three are Sally Wahl, 17; Dorothy Norman, 17; and Lawrence Macneil, 18.

THAT GINKY

THE Teenie Weenie men had been kept busy from early morning until dark for some weeks. Many frogs had to be caught so the hams could be prepared and smoked for the little folk's supply of Winter meat. The Teenie Weenie women, too, were exceptionally busy because they had to prepare all the meals while the Cook and Gogo were helping with the meat. However, the little women didn't mind the extra work of getting the meals, for the house was free of men during the day and that gave the women plenty of time to work in peace. They sewed on Teenie Weenie clothes, made curtains for the tiny windows and, of course, washed out lots of pink things at their leisure.

"I believe I'll make some cookies," announced the Lady of Fashion one afternoon. "It will be a good time to do that with the Dunc out of the house, for he can eat them faster than I can bake them."

After the cookies had been baked and piled neatly in a bottle top pan she put on her bathing suit and set off for the swimming pool. When she found a caterpillar had fallen into the sauce dish which the little people had made into a swimming pool, she decided to take a sun bath instead. She went back to the house, got a blanket and spread it out on the moss in a sunny spot near the shoe house.

"I ought to take Zero with me," she said to herself. "A sunning will do him good."

Zero is the smallest Teenie Weenie baby. He is a bit underweight, weighing only 5½ grains, so the Lady of Fashion carried him out and put him on the blanket. She brought out a cherry seed of sand, a tiny shovel and a toy horse for the child and then she lay down in the warm sunshine.

In the meantime, Ginky, who had smelled the cookies baking, sneaked up to the kitchen. Finding no one around, he made off with the entire pan. He boldly passed right in front of the Lady of Fashion with the stolen cookies. Just as she opened her mouth to scream for help, she saw Gogo peering from behind a bush. When Ginky drew near, Gogo made a flying tackle and brought the mouse down with a great thud. After a good thrashing, Gogo let the mouse go, and Ginky made off in a hurry.

The cookies, of course, were scattered all over the ground, but some of them that were not soiled were picked up.

"It's mighty lucky that Ah happened along," grinned Gogo. "That ornery mouse wouldn't have left us a single crumb."
